

June 2013 Issue

The June newsletter is coming to you in July... It seems the summer blues spilled into June and completely took over our data management centers... The team efforts however prevailed, and we come to you in July hoping to see you again at the end of July, on the onset of another fight with the summer blues... The headline for this newsletter is: AMSI signs an MOU with Dubai Healthcare City - DHCC, marking their willingness to cooperate to put together an academic program that feeds into the Dubai's much needed hunger for students oriented around the medical field...
